

ARTICLE XIV.—BOUNDARY.

The boundary of the State of Utah shall be as follows: Commencing at a point formed by the intersection of a line of longitude and latitude, the thirty-second degree of longitude west from Washington, with the thirty-seventh degree of north latitude, thence west along said thirty-seventh degree of north latitude to the intersection of the same with the thirty-second degree of longitude west from Washington; thence due north along said thirty-second degree of longitude west from Washington to the intersection of the same with the forty-second degree of north latitude; thence due east along said forty-second degree of north latitude to the intersection of the same with the thirty-second degree of longitude west from Washington; thence due south along said thirty-second degree of longitude west from Washington to the place of beginning.

ARTICLE XV.—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

Sec. 1. The seat of government shall be at Salt Lake City, until the legislature may otherwise determine.

Sec. 2. No person shall be eligible to any elective office who is not a qualified elector.

Sec. 3. The general election shall be held on the first Monday in August of each year, unless otherwise provided by law.

Sec. 4. The legislature shall provide for the speedy publication of all laws of this State.

Sec. 5. The compensation of all State officers shall be as provided by law; provided, no change of salary or compensation shall apply to any officer, except a judge of the Supreme or Circuit Court, during the term for which he may have been elected.

Sec. 6. All executive officers of the State shall keep their respective offices at the seat of government.

Sec. 7. A plurality of votes given at any election by the people for officers shall constitute a choice, where not otherwise provided by the Constitution.

Sec. 8. No person holding an office of honor or profit under the government of the United States shall hold office under the government of this State, except postmasters whose annual compensation does not exceed three hundred dollars, and except as otherwise provided in this Constitution.

Sec. 9. The Legislature, at their first session, shall prescribe the methods of conducting all general and special elections in this State, and for canvassing all votes cast at such elections and declaring the results thereof.

Sec. 10. All officers, executive, judicial and ministerial, shall, before they enter upon the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe to the following oath or affirmation:—

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support the Constitution of the United States, and of the State of Utah, and will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of _____, according to the best of my ability."

Sec. 11. Until otherwise provided by law, all counties, as they now exist, are hereby recognized as legal subdivisions of this State.

Sec. 12. No person being considered incompetent with a republican form of government, each of them is hereby forbidden and declared a misdemeanor. Any person who shall violate this section shall, on conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars and imprisonment for a term not less than six months nor more than three years, in the discretion of the court. This section shall be construed as operative without the aid of legislation, and the offenses prohibited by this section shall not be barred by any statute of limitation within three years after the commission of the offense; nor shall the power of pardon extend thereon until such pardon shall be approved by the President of the United States.

ARTICLE XVI.—AMENDMENTS.

Sec. 1. Any amendment or amendments to this Constitution, if agreed to by a majority of all the members elected to each of the two houses of the legislature, shall be entered on their respective journals, with the yeas and nays taken thereon, and referred to the next session of the legislature, and shall be published for three months next preceding the time of such election, and if in the legislature next elected as aforesaid, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be agreed to by a majority of all the members elected to each house, then it shall be the duty of the legislature to submit such proposed amendment or amendments to the people, in such manner and at such time as the legislature shall prescribe; and if the people shall approve and ratify such amendment or amendments by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon, such amendment or amendments shall become a part of the Constitution. Provided, That section 12 of Article IV shall not be amended, revised or in any way changed until any amendment, revision or change as proposed herein shall, in addition to the requirements of the provisions of this article, be reported to the Congress of the United States and shall be by Congress approved and ratified, and such approval and ratification be proclaimed by the President of the United States, and if not so ratified and proclaimed said section shall remain perpetual.

Sec. 2. If at any time the legislature, by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each house, shall determine that it is necessary to cause a revision of this Constitution, the electors of the legislature, for or against it, shall appear at such election, and if it shall appear that a majority of the electors voting at such election have voted in favor of calling a convention, the legislature shall, at its next session, provide by law for calling a convention to be held within one year, and such convention shall consist of a number of members not less than that of the two branches of the legislature.

ARTICLE XVII.—SCHEDULE AND ELECTION.

Sec. 1. That no inconvenience may arise by reason of a change from a Territory to a State government, it is hereby declared that all rights, claims and contracts, judgments, claims and debts of individuals, private, shall continue as if no change had taken place.

of Utah, in force at the time of the admission of this State, not repugnant to this Constitution, shall remain in force until they expire by their own limitations, or are altered or repealed by the legislature.

Sec. 3. All fines, penalties and forfeitures accruing to the Territory of Utah, or to the people of the United States in the Territory of Utah, shall pass to this State, and all debts, liabilities and obligations of said Territory, shall be valid against the State, and enforced as may be provided by law.

Sec. 4. All recognitions heretofore taken, or which may be taken before the change from a Territorial to a State government, shall remain valid, and shall pass to and be prosecuted in the name of the State; and all bonds executed to the Governor of the Territory, or to any other officer or court, in his or their official capacity, or to the people of the United States in the Territory of Utah, shall pass to the Governor or other officer or court, and his or their successors in office, for the uses therein respectively expressed, and may be sued on and recovery had accordingly; and all revenue, property, real, personal or mixed, and all judgments, bonds, specialties, choses in action, claims and debts, of whatsoever description, and all records and public archives of the Territory of Utah, shall issue and vest in the State of Utah, and may be sued for and recovered in the same manner and to the same extent by the State of Utah as the same could have been by the Territory of Utah. All criminal prosecutions and penal actions which may have arisen, or which may arise before the change from a Territorial to a State government, and which shall not be prosecuted to judgment and execution in the name of the State, shall be prosecuted in the name of the Territory of Utah before the change from a Territorial to a State government, and which shall not be prosecuted to judgment and execution in the name of the State.

All offenses committed against the laws of the Territory of Utah before the change from a Territorial to a State government, and which shall not be prosecuted to judgment and execution in the name of the State, shall be prosecuted in the name of the Territory of Utah before the change from a Territorial to a State government, and which shall not be prosecuted to judgment and execution in the name of the State.

Sec. 5. A copy of this Constitution, certified to be correct by the President and Secretary of this Convention, shall be published by them on or before the fifteenth day of July, 1887, in one or more of the newspapers in Utah Territory. The President and Secretary shall, also, immediately after its ratification, forward copies of this Constitution, duly certified, to the President of the United States, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the Delegate in Congress from Utah Territory, and shall deliver or forward a copy, certified as aforesaid, to each of the delegates who may hereafter be elected by this Convention.

Sec. 6. For the purpose of taking the vote of the electors of this Territory for the ratification or rejection of this Constitution, the Registration Officers appointed by the Utah Commission in the several counties are hereby each requested to add to the notices which they are required by law to post in each precinct, designating the offices to be filled at the general election to be held on the first Monday in August, 1887, the further notice, as follows, to wit:

"At the same time and place, the question of the ratification or rejection of the Constitution adopted by the Constitutional Convention in Salt Lake City, July 7th, 1887, will be submitted to the registered voters of the precinct; those who are in favor of ratification will write or cause to be written or printed on the bottom of their ballots the words 'Constitution, yes,' and those in favor of rejection, 'Constitution, no.'"

If the registration officers or either of them shall refuse or neglect to post the notice herein provided for, the county clerk of the respective county are hereby requested to post a notice to the same effect in each precinct on the 16th day of July, 1887.

Sec. 7. The Judges of Election, or either of them, appointed by the Utah Commission in each precinct to canvass and count the votes are hereby requested, after the polls are closed, to canvass and count the ballots cast for and against this Constitution, and make returns of the same forthwith, by the most safe and expeditious conveyance, to Heber M. Wells, Salt Lake City, the Secretary of this Convention, marked "Constitution Election Returns." Upon the receipt of said returns, or within fourteen days after the election, if the returns are not sooner received, it shall be the duty of the President and Secretary of this Convention and the Probate Judge of Salt Lake County, or any two of the persons named in this section, to canvass the returns of said election in the presence of all who may choose to attend, and immediately publish an abstract of said returns in one or more of the newspapers published in the Territory of Utah, and forward a copy of said abstract, duly certified by them, to the President of the United States, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Delegate in Congress from Utah Territory.

Sec. 8. A copy of this Constitution, certified to be correct by the President and Secretary of this Convention, shall be published by them on or before the fifteenth day of July, 1887, in one or more of the newspapers in Utah Territory. The President and Secretary shall, also, immediately after its ratification, forward copies of this Constitution, duly certified, to the President of the United States, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the Delegate in Congress from Utah Territory, and shall deliver or forward a copy, certified as aforesaid, to each of the delegates who may hereafter be elected by this Convention.

Sec. 9. The terms of all officers named in this Constitution, except judicial and senatorial, elected at the first election, shall continue from the time of qualification until the expiration of two years from and including the first Monday in December next succeeding their election and until the qualification of their successors.

Sec. 10. The State Senators to be elected at the first election, under this Constitution shall draw lots, so that the term of one-half of the number, as nearly as may be, shall expire at the end of two years from the first Monday in December next succeeding their election, and the term of the other half shall expire in four years from the first Monday in December next succeeding their election, so that one half, as nearly as may be, shall be elected biennially thereafter. Provided, That in drawing lots for all senatorial terms, the senatorial representation shall be allotted so that in the counties having two or more senators, the terms thereof shall be divided as equally as may be between the long and short terms, and in case of increase in the number of senators they shall be so annexed by lot to one of the other of the two classes as to keep them as nearly equal as practicable.

Sec. 11. Unless otherwise provided by Congress, the first election for all officers named in this constitution shall be held on the first Monday in the second month next succeeding the passage of an enabling act or the approval of this Constitution by Congress, and such election shall be conducted and returns thereof made in the manner provided by law. The first session of the legislature shall commence, and all officers herein provided for shall enter upon the duties of their respective offices, on the first Monday of the second month next succeeding said election.

Sec. 12. The Justices of the Supreme Court, elected at the first election, shall hold office from and including the first Monday of the second month next succeeding their election and continue in office thereafter two, four and six years respectively, from and including the first Monday in December next succeeding their election. They shall meet as soon as practicable after their election and qualification, and, at their first meeting, shall determine by lot the term of office each shall fill, and the Justice drawing the shortest term shall be Chief Justice, and after the expiration of his term the one having the next shortest term shall be Chief Justice.

Sec. 13. All officers under the laws of the Territory of Utah, at the time this Constitution shall take effect, shall continue in office until their successors are elected and qualified. The time of such election and qualification not herein otherwise provided for shall be as prescribed by law.

Sec. 14. After the admission of this State into the Union, and until the legislature shall otherwise provide, the several Judges shall hold courts in their respective circuits at such times and places as they may respectively appoint; and until provisions shall be made by law for holding the terms of the Supreme Court, the Governor shall fix the time and place of holding such court.

Sec. 15. This Constitution shall be deemed ratified by the people of Utah if at any election to which it is submitted a majority of the votes cast on the question of its adoption be in the affirmative.

Sec. 16. Hon. Franklin S. Richards, Edwin G. Woolley and William W. Riker are hereby elected delegates from this convention to proceed to Washington, D. C., and with the Hon. John T. Caine, Delegate in Congress from Utah, present this Constitution to the President of the United States and to the Senate and House of Representatives in Congress assembled, and urge the passage of an act of Congress admitting the State of Utah into the Union.

Done in Convention and signed by the Delegates at Salt Lake City, Territory of Utah, this seventh day of July, in the year of our Lord One Thousand Eight Hundred and Eighty-seven, and of the Independence of the United States the two hundred and

A Multitude of Ailments.
The ailments which afflict the kidneys and bladder are so numerous, that merely to name them would fill a space far outstriking the limits of this article. Suffice it to say, that they are both obstinate and dangerous. To their prevention, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is well adapted. The stimulus which it lends to the action of the kidneys when they are lethargic, serve to counteract a tendency in them to lapse, first, into a state of pernicious inactivity, and afterwards into one of positive organic disease, which soon destroys their delicate integuments, poisons the blood and causes death. A double purpose is served by this depurant. It promotes activity of the kidneys, and expels impurities from the blood, which have no natural channel of outlet except those organs. Constipation, biliousness, fever and ague, rheumatism and dyspepsia, are also cured by this medicine of thorough action and wide scope.

An End to Bone Scraping.
Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well. Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c. per box by E. C. M. I. Drug Store."
